ABOUT US

Aquimont's founders are seasoned managers that bring a combined 18+ years of experience in the healthcare sector across various categories including care delivery and payment models, life sciences, population health, regulatory enforcement, and technology and digital health. We are committed to bringing this experience to bear on extending the seller's legacy, and will be working in concert with a team of advisors with decades of clinical, financial, M&A, and operating experience to make it happen.

We intend to act as long-term owner-managers and devote 100% of our time, energy, and resources to building the acquired business and implementing strategic growth initiatives.
